DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-11,13, and 15-17, drawn to the use of modulators of the signal transduction pathway for the treatment of tumor diseases. Note: Species election required.

Group II, claim(s) 12 and 14, drawn to the use of modulators of the signal transduction pathway in the production of a medicant. Note: Species election required.

Note: While use claims are non-statutory under 35 USC 101, they are being treated as method claims for this restriction/species election.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The apparent special technical feature would appear to be the modulator of the signal transduction pathway. Claim 6 notes the modulator may be an inhibitor of Rho-kinase. The specification on page 15 then states there are prior known Rho-inhibitors, which precludes the modulator as the special technical feature. Instead, it would appear the special technical feature is the use of the modulators for the treatment of tumor diseases and the use of the modulators in the production of a medicament.

Art Unit: 1609

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

For Group I: select a specific specie for each;

A. the modulator of the signal transduction pathway of claim 1,

B. whether there is a protecting group,

C. if a protecting group is elected, the pharmacologically acceptable protecting group(s) of claim 16, and

D. the method of administering of claim 17.

For Group II: select a specific specie for the modulator of the signal transduction pathway.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a disclosed single species for each specie to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

All claims refer to a modulator of the signal transduction pathway, claim 16 refers to pharmacologically acceptable protecting group(s), and claim 17 refers to various methods of administration.

The following claim(s) are generic: 1, 12, 16, and 17.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Species I is directed to activators and inhibitors of differing proteins. Species II is directed to protecting groups. Species III is directed to methods of administration which vary in the biological reactivity.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 1609

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Inventorship Notice

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
